Fall 2005 - Volume 4, Issue 1

Open House for New Library Director

The King County Law Library has a new Law Library Director, Marcus Hochstetler. We are hosting an open house to introduce him to the community. Please join us on Wednesday, October 19 from 3-5 PM in the Seattle Courthouse Library. We will be serving light refreshments of punch and cookies. Mr. Hochstetler began his new position on September 1, 2005, succeeding Jean M. Holcomb, who retired after 13 years of service as the Library's Director.

Library Wins A Day in the Life of the Law Library Community Photo Contest

During National Library Week 2005 (April 10-16), American Association of Law Library members took photographs of law librarians working, meeting, teaching, and doing all that law librarians do in a given day or week. Fifty-five AALL members from 47 different law libraries across the country submitted more than 180 photos to the contest. King County Law Library won the Best Picture Overall. If you would like to see the winning picture you can find it at the following location: <http://www.aallnet.org/dayinlife/finals/winners.asp>

Subscriber Renewal Rapidly Approaching

If you have put off renewing your membership this year, now is the time. During the months of September through December, you can become a subscriber to the Library for only $20.00 per attorney. Contact the Library at 206-296-0940 for more information or click on the link to our Subscriber information. Invoices for your 2006 renewal will be sent out in mid-December. Advantages of joining the Subscriber Program include the ability to check out books from either KCLL branch, the ability to use our document delivery service, and cheaper conference room reservation rates.
