Check out our current training calendar for all scheduled classes. We hold all training in the Seattle KCLL location at 516 3rd Ave, Suite W-621. All classes are free-of-charge. If you want us to bring any class to your location, please contact us and we will see if we can accommodate you.

Podcast News

KCLL's SideBar, the library's podcast service, has two new episodes online. Episode 29: Copyright Law, features the Seattle University law librarians in "At the Reference Desk." In this segment they discuss copyright law as it applies to music and to other works. Craig, in his "Reel Verdict" segment, discusses a musical copyright case along with a review of the movie, "Almost Famous."

In Episode 28: Renters and Owners, Rita K. speaks with attorney Jerry Stimmel about the kinds of problems that may develop in the landlord/tenant relationship and ways to avoid these problems. In "At the Reference Desk", the Seattle University Law School librarians discuss a typical tenant question. And Craig, in his "Reel Verdict" segment, gives us his view of some of the recent Oscar movies.

Blog Post of the Month – Washington Real Property Desk book

KCLL Klues, our Washington state research blog, keeps you apprised of interesting legal news and great research links. Sign up for the RSS feed. During this last month we highlighted the news that the first two volumes of the new edition of the Washington Real Property Desk book has been published! The last update to this set was 2001. Vol. 1 covers parties to real estate transactions and basics of real estate transactions. Vol. 2 covers leasing, financing and remedies. The set is accompanied by a CD-ROM with forms and has its own index. Volumes 3 and 4 are expected later this summer. Volumes 5-7 will be published sometime in 2010. The Law Library has one copy of the desk book available for checkout as well as the CD-ROMs that accompany the set. Copies of this new edition are available from the Washington State Bar Association for $315.00 ($350.00 after April 30).
