KCLL Celebrates National Library Week

National Library Week, April 11-16, 2005 marks the fifth year of the Campaign for America's Libraries, a multi-year public education campaign sponsored by the American Library Association and libraries like ours across the country. More than 20,000 libraries in all 50 states will be hosting special activities during this week to focus attention on the programs and services they offer. KCLL will hold events to focus on the "Something for Everyone @ your Library" theme for the week's events. We invite you to visit the Seattle or Kent RJC Library locations, or to stop by the Library's web site <http://www.kcll.org> to see what's new and to join in the celebration.

KCLL Delivers- Special Document Delivery Offer for Subscribers

As part of our celebration of National Library Week, the King County Law Library is offering a special one-time deal. Place an order for a document delivery request during National Library Week, April 10th through the 16th, and receive it at no cost – yes, free. This is good for one delivery request per Subscriber Account – for a document of 20 pages or less. You can make your request via telephone at 206-296-0940, or fax your request to 206-205-0513, using the form from our web site, located at the following web site address: <http://www.kcll.org/letushelp/kclldelivers/index.html>.

New Law Library Research Guides

Library staff members have created a number of new Research Guides for our patrons. These guides are posted on the King County Law Library web site. The new guides include two that deal with administrative law appeals. The first one addresses Administrative Procedures Act (APA) appeals and the second one explains Non-APA based appeals. Both are excellent introductions to the administrative appeals process. A third guide looks at Washington state public records requests and links to some great web sites for checking state records. The last new guide defines wrongful discharge and links to resources for investigating this further. Look at our new guides at the following location: <http://www.kcll.org/researchhelp/researchguides/index.html>.

Wi-fi Now Available at the Seattle Downtown Branch

The King County Law Library is now a wi-fi "hot spot" for wireless Internet access! Wi-fi opened at the RJC in January and is now available in the downtown Seattle branch, too. There is no fee or password required to access the wireless network. King County has provided the Library with copies of a brochure that lists suggested laptop settings to help facilitate access to the wireless network.

Training Opportunities

We are offering Westlaw for the Public on April 15th and Lexis Basic Research on April 11th as part of our National Library Week celebration. Please visit our web site to see the course schedule for other classes in the Legal Research and Training Center \(LRTC\). Call the Reference Desk at 206-296-0940 to register for these classes. If you need a special class or training subject, contact us and we will work with you to meet your training needs.

When classes are not in session, the Legal Research and Training Center is available for walk-in research and document production Monday through Friday from 9 AM until 5 PM.
